GDPR guidelines for the REFRIPRO website - <https://www.refripro.eu>
Information for data subjects (data processed on <https://www.refripro.eu>)

1. What information do we collect?

1.1. Data from forms

REFRIPRO collects data entered with your consent in forms, which are securely stored by the Customer Department for the purpose of providing technical support relating to requests received, advice relating to plans to place advertisements, press releases, job/recruitment advertisements or concerning professional directory entries.

All the information collected via the forms on the www.refripro.eu website is kept at REFRIPRO in its data processing register.

Web users who have used our forms may request the deletion of this information at any time.

The information below may be collected in our different forms:

Surname, forename, address, postcode, town, country, company name, company type, telephone number, fax number, e-mail address, website, message, space in the companies directory, person to contact, region, professional domain, position, logo, job offer

Any other personally identifiable information that you provide in the "message" field.

These data may be collected via 3 forms:

- Contact
- Job offers
- Directory entry

These data are stored for as long as necessary by the department responsible for the service you have requested (advertising banner on the website, posting of a job offer, entry in the companies directory). If the posting of the banners, job offers or information in the directory is suspended, your data will only be stored so that your postings can be reactivated, for a period of 4 years, and your data will not be processed for any other purpose. If you wish to delete or modify your data, please contact: rgpd@refripro.eu

1.2. Respect for personal data To access data You may ask for the information linked to your contact e-mail address or registration with an information posting service at any time. To do so, please contact: rgpd@refripro.eu

To rectify data

You may rectify the information linked to your contact e-mail address or registration with an information posting service at any time. To do so, please contact: rgpd@refripro.eu

To delete data

You may delete the information linked to your contact e-mail address or registration with an information posting service at any time. To do so, please contact: rgpd@refripro.eu

To unsubscribe

You may unsubscribe from the all Newsletter subscriber lists at any time. Please use this link to unsubscribe: desinscription@refripro.fr

NB: the data provided to us for a subscription to the Newsletter is limited to the e-mail address, and so is therefore not personally identifiable. This may affect your rights set out above or our ability to obtain a copy, correct or delete your data as there is no means of tracing you.

2. How do we ensure your data are secure?

REFRIPRO treats the security of data with the greatest vigilance and the company has therefore taken a certain number of measures to ensure that the data we collect are protected against any unauthorised access, alteration, disclosure or destruction.

- All the pages of the REFRIPRO website benefit from the "https" protocol, which means that data exchanged is encrypted using SSL.
- We regularly examine our data collection, storage and processing practices, including the physical and electronic measures we take.
- We restrict access to your personal data to the REFRIPRO employees who need to access it to provide the services requested.
- All our employees are subject to strict confidentiality and non-disclosure obligations, whose breach may render them liable and/or lead to the termination of their contract.

Subcontractors

When you use one of the forms on our website, the data is transmitted directly to our hosting server, which is managed by our web agency, Idéal Productions. The hosting server is an OVH server with facility management by ALTEO.

Any questions regarding our good practices?
